

COMMUNITY LECTURE SERIES

The Durban University of Technology is proud to announce the launch of its Community Lecture Series. This free series of lectures has been designed to benefit all – parents; scholars; budding scientists, beauticians, chefs and photographers amongst others.

DUT hopes to, by engaging with the community, pass on much needed skills and valuable expertise, using presenters who are known experts in their field. This expertise may come in the form of vital safety information for parents and guardians, and in this vein, the first lecture will be Beauty Secrets: Tips every women should know.
